St. Augustine Seminarians have redoubled their efforts to make Mission Day, March 21, an educational, inspirational and recreational success. Invitations of attendance invite a good turnout for the day's activities.

The day will begin with mass at 11 a.m. with a talk on the missions by a vice-administrator, Rev. Charles Scanlon, SVD of the Philippines.

Supervisors' course buffet

One hundred and twenty-five supervisors from the NARA program will be in town for a three-day course at the county school system, and County Superintendent Robert F. Lademann, PRJC board of trustees, Miss Hollister will be at superintendent's office in room 105 p.m. Tuesday in all who are interested in nurses' course.

The regional supervisor was motivated by the fact that the county has not taken steps to renew its contract with the county for the security of the school system. It was organized by the county sheriff's police the area. A local police protective firm has been awarded a policing contract by General Electric Co., prime electrical contractor to MTO.

The regional supervisor was motivated by the fact that the county has not taken steps to renew its contract with the county for the security of the school system. It was organized by the county sheriff's police the area. A local police protective firm has been awarded a policing contract by General Electric Co., prime electrical contractor to MTO.

The board invited Mrs. T. J. Ashman, owner of the Bay Motel, about the university, the area, and flooding in early water. Ashman commented that a highway department report on U.S. 90 was responsible for the problem. A telephone property owner has threatened to sue the board unless the drainage problem is corrected.

(Cont. from Page 1-A) probable, then some relief from traffic congestion on U.S. 90 should be forthcoming since a year earlier.

The chamber board also recommended to Bay St. Louis Commission Council an ordinance of subdivision regulation along the lines of Tallahassee, Fla., ordinance. This would permit the city by contract to reimburse real estate developers under specified conditions for streets and utility lines installed by them. The reimbursement would come from part of the additional revenue received by the city from the development and the roads, sewers, water and gas lines would have to meet the city specifications.

The recommended ordinance would apply to developers of property on the outskirts of the city, which presumably would eventually be annexed, as well as those in the city. Adoption of Mississippi Economic Council's statement on compliance with civil rights laws was held over for discussion at the general membership meeting next month. Description of possible advertising programs by the chamber was similarly postponed.

Colson, now the only remaining officer of the Commission, inquired of the board's two honorary attorneys regarding the procedure to be followed in calling a further meeting.

On being advised that a notice signed by two members constituted an official directive, trustee Rester volunteered to sign such a notice with Colson calling for another meeting on Monday, March 22.

end of the game was broken by Eddie Strong when he carried the ball over from eight yards out to make the first goal.

Elie's kick by Dick Mestayer for the extra was blocked by Alex Romanoff.

Taking the kick following,

the Gold team worked down to the two-yard marker but was held there at the halftime whistle.

Strong broke loose again in the third quarter, this time for a

75-yard run, but Lomie

Schmitz hauled him down on the Gold 10-yard marker.

Four downs later, Strong hammered

over for the last score.

Everyone went home pleased.

Especially Coach Lance

Lumpkin who knows he will have one of the best cage of

Tigers in BHS history when the varsity 11 hits the field

this fall.

Waveland Joins Irish

MAJOR LADNER, MARSHAL LUCAS TOAST QUEEN PATRICIA GRIFFIN

CAPERS AT WAVELAND'S ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE

Hancock Gen'l accredited for 3 more years

... doesn't arrive until it's too late, calendar wise, to eliminate spring aches and pains. Usually by this time coats and jackets have been stored away and sunbathers can be spied on the beach. All the rooms are present, birds ignore the chill to tweet merrily, about every tree has begun to bud but the pines, which according to lore, know that more cold weather is in store and will burst forth until all danger of frost is past. In fact I'm sure that blackberry (except here it's really dewberry) had arrived as the small white blossoms are wide open in the place, but dewberry winter can't get here until our winter is gone. It's all quite confusing, and we don't know. Bid one newcomer, Mrs. Cole, says she is one of cold weather people, and dreads the first warm day, so we can blame peculiar climatological conditions on MTO.

Griffin reigns

Waveland's second annual St. Patrick's Day parade was equally as successful as the first and the whole thing went off smoothly as if it had been rehearsed. Mrs. Patricia Griffin, daughter of the first grand marshal, Brian, and wife, Lillian, was Queen for a day and ruled over Lucas who was top dog resplendent in a green suit, top hat and a very amazing orchid tipped cane. Mayor Adler (and that's the only o' we're using as we're too weary in celebrating to make all of those apostrophes), Terri Gandy (the first queen) and various city officials formed the reviewing stand and Garretts, Morrisons, Morris with green chandeliers of city hills, two visiting irishmen from the Bay, along with two young sons, dressed in the Highway Patrol uniform, Garretts contributed the blue lighted city lights. The floats were really spectacular, the one carrying tiny tourist.

is available"

This is a matter-of-fact statement when larger cities attempt to attract new industry. But what about rural Mississippi?

Yes . . . power is available there, too, because of Electric Power Associations. Your Electric Power Association is vitally interested in helping smaller communities develop industries in rural areas around them.

Electric Power Associations will continue to help upgrade Mississippi's living standards and economy . . . resulting in more jobs, greater output, better schools . . . and all the things that modern power helps provide.

Yes, gentlemen, power is available for practically any need through your Electric Power Association which is owned, operated and controlled by the Mississippi people it serves."
